Bands Cross the Frontier and Invade Turkey.

TURKS ARE READY TO ADVANCE

Edhem Pasha Places Entire Army Under Waiting Orders to Move Into Greece at a Moment's Notice.

Ellassona, Macedonia, April 7.—Bands of Greeks have entered Turkey, and a cause for war between the Ottoman Empire and the Hellenic kingdom is believed to have thus been furnished.

The Greeks came across at Krana, in the vicinity of Grevena, and severe fighting has resulted. The engagement began at 5 o'clock this morning, and continued throughout the day until dark this evening.

Aggressors May Be Brigands. The Greeks are said to be brigands and it is not known whether troops are among them. Even if there are no troops among them, however, the affair is regarded at Turkish headquarters as of the gravest importance, in view of the excitement here.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon the Turks had surrounded the Greeks and a greater part of a Turkish division, under Hakkı Pasha, was advancing on them.

Turkish Army Ready to Move. The moment the Turkish officers ascertain the presence of the uniforms of the Greek regulars in the ranks of the aggressors, Edhem Pasha, commander of the Turkish forces on the frontier, will order the advance of the entire Turkish army.

He has already notified his generals of division to hold themselves in readiness for instant action, and the reserves have already left the encampment here in order to move close to the first line of defense.

Invaders Holding Their Own. London, April 9.—A dispatch to the Evening News from Ellassona says: "The invading Greeks number 1,000 and are holding their own. Telegrams are proceeding incessantly between Grevena and Constantinople."

Gunboat Drives Cretans Off. Canoe, Island of Crete, April 9.—Thearrison at Kissamo is reported to have been under a continuous fusillade to-day from the insurgents, who killed two soldiers, when a Russian gunboat bombarded the insurgents and compelled them to retire.

Turkish War Element Rampant. Constantinople, April 9.—The war preparations throughout the Turkish Empire continue to be steadily pressed. The blockade of the Piræus seems to be as far off as ever, the Turkish war party is bringing pressure to bear upon the Turkish Government to rush matters, with a view to bringing the crisis to an end.

A new danger has arisen through the circulation in Constantinople and through the provinces of a pamphlet reciting the alleged Christian atrocities on Mussulmans in Crete and elsewhere. This is so inflammatory that the Hellenic Ministry has drawn the attention of the Porte to the matter. The Government has promised to take the measures necessary to prevent outbreaks upon the part of the populace.

Greeks Strengthen Advance Posts. Larissa, April 9.—In spite of official intelligence received here saying that the powers have arranged to settle the Cretan question by a plebiscite of the island, there is no stoppage of the war preparations. Troops are being forwarded daily to the frontier, and the advance posts are being strengthened.

It is rumored here that three bands of insurgents, each numbering about 600 men, have appeared at different points in Macedonia. It is believed these bands may force an outbreak of hostilities.

Unpop in Italy's Chamber. Rome, April 9.—The Chamber of Deputies was crowded to-day on the resumption of the debate raised yesterday by the interpellation of Signor Imbriani, the Socialist leader in the Chamber. The Marquis Visconti Venosta, Foreign Minister, replied for the Government, which had been charged by Signor Imbriani with being guilty of the "odious policy of leading Italy into the European war."

The Foreign Minister declared that Italy was actuated by motives for peace. Imbriani interrupted with a violent protest and the sitting of the Chamber had to be suspended. When it was resumed the Socialist leader apologized and the Foreign Minister concluded.

A COMSTOCK ARISES IN PARIS.

Notice Given of a Bill to Safeguard Public Morals in Europe's Gay Capital.

Paris, April 9.—M. Darlan, the Minister of Justice, announced in the Chamber of Deputies to-day that he would soon submit a bill enabling public morality to be more effectively safeguarded.

Previous to this the Ministers of Instruction and of the Interior, replying to an interpellation of Deputy Berenger, said that immoral songs in the cabinets were to be examined by the censor and that orders would be given to prohibit the sale or distribution of obscene papers and pictures in public places.

SPANISH TROOPS CUT OFF

The Garrison of Fort Guamo Forced to Retreat and Ambushed While En Route.

By George Eugene Bryson.

Havana, via Key West, April 9.—The Journal correspondent at Manzanillo reports that the Spanish garrison of Fort Guamo, near Bayamo, after a ten days' siege, was forced to abandon its position and retreat toward Canto Embarradero. The garrison was ambushed en route and the entire company either killed or captured by insurgents. The details are lacking, but the report is fully confirmed.

The Journal correspondent at Matanzas writes of a hot engagement near La Mochoa, in the Aguacate hills. The Spanish, under Colonel Almeyda, were defeated and wounded by Cuban forces under General Avelino Roas. The Spanish losses are upward of sixty killed and wounded. The Cuban loss is estimated at from twenty to thirty killed and wounded, but as they were carried from the field the exact number is unknown.

A big lot of contraband tobacco, consisting of Connecticut and Virginia leaf, was seized by the Havana Customs House officials among the cargo of a New York steamer recently arrived, and two well-known local manufacturers of alleged pure Havana cigars were fined sums aggregating $80,000. Since Weyler's columns and Melquíez's guerrillas laid waste the noted Yuello Abajo tobacco fields of Pinar del Río and Havana provinces, the cigar factories here have also imported immense quantities of Mexican leaf.

General Rius Rivera, accompanied by Colonel Bacallao, arrived by train at Regla at 4:30 this afternoon. They were

TO GRANT'S TOMB 50,000 STRONG.

Procession on Dedication Day Promises to Be a Monster.

30,000 WILL BE SOLDIERS.

For Five Hours, at Least, President McKinley Will Be in the Reviewing Stand.

UNCASING THE REMAINS.

First Preparations for the Removal of the Body to Its Final Resting Place—Squabble Over Trucks.

Not until yesterday was it possible for anything like an official announcement of the programme of Dedication Day to be made. Now, too, it is known almost exactly how the Grant parade will be made up. It is estimated that 55,000 men will march, and that five hours will be consumed in passing the reviewing stand.

It will be almost entirely a military parade, and fully 30,000 soldiers will be in line, divided as follows: Federal troops, 5,000; New York National Guard, 13,000; Pennsylvania National Guard, 5,000; New Jersey National Guard, 4,000; military organizations of other States, 8,000. Besides these there will be 10,000 in the veteran's division and 10,000 in the civil division.

General Dodge says the procession will move at 10:30, and reach the President's reviewing stand at 1 o'clock. The procession will continue past the reviewing stand to One Hundred and Sixteenth street, where the line will be broken and the various organizations will proceed downtown by the way of the Boulevard or Amsterdam avenue.

The exercises at the tomb will begin at 11 o'clock, and end by 12:20. They will begin by a prayer by Bishop Newman, followed by an address by General Horace Porter, who as chairman of the committee which raised funds for the erection of the monument, will formally deliver it to the city. Mayor Strong will accept it in a ten-minute speech.

What McKinley Will Do. Then will come the address of the day by President McKinley, the programme ending with the benediction, to be pronounced by Archbishop Corrigan.

This programme will be interspersed with songs by a chorus of one thousand voices and music by a band of one hundred pieces.

After the ceremonies luncheon will be served to President McKinley and other distinguished guests in a pavilion north of the tomb. By that time it is expected that the head of the marching column will have reached the monument, and President McKinley will take his place in the reviewing stand. The review over, the President will be driven to the foot of One Hundred and Thirtieth street, where, with about 125 invited people of distinction, he will board a fast launch and review the marine parade, being saluted as he steams through the long line of ships to the foot of West Twenty-third street, where he will disembark and proceed to his hotel to prepare for the reception tendered him by the Union League Club in the evening.

President McKinley will probably accept the tender of a four-in-hand made by General Healey. The latter has offered the equipage for the use of the President, Mayor Strong and General Porter in riding from the Fifth Avenue Hotel to the monument in the morning and from the monument to One Hundred and Thirtieth street after the ceremonies.

The Committee on Invitations yesterday asked all the surviving division commanders of the Federal forces during the war to come to New York and be the guests of the city on April 27. The list consists of the following officers connected with the United States Army in active service and retired: Lieutenant-General J. M. Schofield, Washington; Major-General O. O. Howard, Burlington, Vt.; Major-General W. S. Rosecrans, Los Angeles, Cal.; Major-General C. C. Augur, Washington; Major-General H. G. Wright, Washington; Major-General J. G. Parke, Washington; Major-General N. J. T. Dana, Washington, and Major-General J. J. Reynolds, Washington.

The following general officers who commanded volunteers during the war were also invited: Major-General D. C. Buell, Paradise, Ky.; Frank Sigel, New York; Lew Wallace, Crawfordsville, Ind.; J. D. Cox, Cincinnati, Ohio; John M. Palmer, Springfield, Ill.

Mayor Strong yesterday added the following gentlemen to the Naval Committee: Robert S. Thompson, president of the Naval Academy Alumni Association; Park Benjamin, William Butler Duncan, Jr., Frank G. Osborne and James A. Harriman.

General Dodge said yesterday that all organizations intending to parade must report, before April 12, the names of the organization, name of commander, the number of officers and men, and, if a military organization, how uniformed, armed and equipped.

Following the example of the Traffic Association, the Trunk Line Association has notified the Committee on Transportation that it has agreed upon the following special rates for April 27: From all points west of the Trunk Line terminal, which include Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Salamanca, New York, Erie, and Pittsburgh, Pa.; Bell, Ohio, and Wheeling, Parkersburg and Huntington, W. Va., a rate of one fare will be made for the round trip. These tickets, coming to New York, will be good between April 23 and 26 inclusive, and to return will be accepted up to May 4. A uniform rate of one cent a mile will be made for uniformed organizations where twenty-five or more men travel on one sold ticket. These rates do not apply to New England or points within twenty-five miles of New York.

Four men with drills began yesterday men discovered them. They were about to seize the other, on which the tomb door was being loaded, when the horses were brought up and quickly attached.

An order was finally issued for the release of the captured truck.

morning, under the direction of George Fox, drilling out the rivets which fasten on the top of the steel case in which is enclosed the body of General Grant.

Within the steel case is a casket of lead and copper composition which was hermetically sealed in 1885 when within it was placed the zinc-lined rosewood casket containing the body. The steel casing would not be removed if it were possible to place it inside the granite sarcophagus, but it has to be done as the interior measurements of the sarcophagus were made on a conjecture as to the dimensions of the copper casket.

Squabble Over Doors. The great bronze double door to the tomb arrived yesterday afternoon, and the work of setting the great leaves in place was begun.

The leaves are backed with oak, are 18 feet high, 4 feet broad, and weigh 4,500 pounds each. They were loaded on a heavy truck, drawn by four horses, and were hauled by a crew of fourteen men from the establishment of Dorkel & Debevoise, the makers of the door.

The leaves were carried up the steps without accident. They will be hung as soon as the hinges are set in the granite blocks, which will probably be to-morrow. The truck which brought the doors to the tomb was backed up to the Houston street entrance of the makers shop about 10 o'clock a. m., and because the street is narrow and the driver feared his horses might start at an inopportune moment, he unhitched them. For a like reason the two horses attached to a lighter truck on which the rollers, ropes and tackle for moving the door were to be carried were unhitched.

All of the men were in the shop moving the enormous battens when Inspector No. 30, of the Street Cleaning Department, passing through Mulberry street, saw the light truck there without horses. He telephoned the Bureau of Engraving that a truck was obstructing Mulberry street. Men were sent instantly to remove it. They were dragging it away to the corporation yard when Dorkel & Debevoise's work-

SATURDAY AND SELF.

On Saturday one thinks of one's self and one's appearance.

On Saturday the Store News appeals to self and clothes—principally. The Golden Salon continues full and rich with trimmed Bonnets and Hats, collected from every complete source of supply. New York responds like an echo to our Millinery enter prise.

Trimmed Hats for Girls. The best Paris milliners have helped our Children's Millinery. Paris Trimmer Hats $12 to $20. Our own, $4.50 to $9.

Women's Tailored Suits—A most diversified stock. French taste, German wit—American skill meet in our Spring Costumes, $10 to $60. Little danger that you and your friend will meet in uniform.

Girls' Dresses and Reefers. Sizes 4 to 14 years. Not adaptation of women's or infants' styles. All the popular fabrics. Newest styles. Dresses, $1.25 to $4.50. Reefers, $1.25 to $3.50.

Women's Gloves. Our standards: Princess May, $1. Burmont, $1.50. Dauphine, $1.75.

Our own trade-marks. Synonyms for the best Gloves at the prices. The makers outrank all competitors. A Glove bargain for the day: Suede, fine, up to date finish, at 75c. Other people have them and truly call them cheap at $1, but 75c is cheaper.

Women's Bicycle Shoes. Black and chocolate kidskin of superior make and finish throughout, and the price is only $2.75. Examine, criticize, compare. Do this and you'll buy. Trash everywhere that sells higher.

Women's Oxford Shoes. Bargains at $2, Black and colored kidskin. The highest expert intelligence controls our Shoe business. Untrained Shoe dealers are a terror to consumers—and there is no lack of them.

Spring Parasols. Fifty styles to top off our Paris Bonnets. And that's the highest possible praise.

Men's Clothing. It's a winning policy that keeps only the best—high grade. Young men are knowing our styles—correct and elegant.

32 sorts of Cheviot Suits at $12 to $13.50.

Spring Overcoats, $8.50 to $22.50. Don't tell that you bought here. Your friends will credit you to a Fifth avenue tailor.

Boys' Clothing. More style durability at the prices than you have any right to expect. We are here stay—you'll evict our clothing fail to beat the trade record.

Hosiery. For men. If the cheapness of the fine cotton H. Hose, black, tan, slate, that we are selling at 25c were properly appreciated, even our big stock would vanish in a day.

Mrs. John Bailey lectures to women this morning at 11 o'clock and this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Physical Culture and Dress. Appreciative audiences pay high compliments to these talks.

Bicycles. What's in a name? Not enough to warrant paying doubt for equal merit.

Floods Feared at Winsted, Conn.

Winsted, Conn., April 9.—It has rained incessantly since last night, and the streams in this county have risen over a foot since morning. A bad wash-out occurred this afternoon in the rock cut west of here, and all trains on the Philadelphia, Reading and New England Railroad were delayed nearly four hours. To-night it is raining hard, and property owners along the banks of Mad River are much alarmed.
